

The architectural site plan of Tell el-Fel is presented on a grid from A to J and 1 to 6. The plan includes various structures, walls, and a large circular feature. A scale bar indicates 20 cm.

Key features include:

- A large circular feature (possibly a well or a small building) located between grid lines C and D, and 3 and 4.
- A large rectangular structure (possibly a building or a wall) located between grid lines E and F, and 1 and 2.
- A large rectangular structure (possibly a building or a wall) located between grid lines G and H, and 1 and 2.
- A large rectangular structure (possibly a building or a wall) located between grid lines I and J, and 1 and 2.
- A large rectangular structure (possibly a building or a wall) located between grid lines A and B, and 5 and 6.
- A large rectangular structure (possibly a building or a wall) located between grid lines C and D, and 5 and 6.
- A large rectangular structure (possibly a building or a wall) located between grid lines E and F, and 5 and 6.
- A large rectangular structure (possibly a building or a wall) located between grid lines G and H, and 5 and 6.
- A large rectangular structure (possibly a building or a wall) located between grid lines I and J, and 5 and 6.

The plan also shows various walls, paths, and other smaller structures. A scale bar indicates 20 cm.

Wireframe & Path Diagram

