

Challenge Story

Let's think of ideas for different ways to transport packages.

Let's explore how packages are transported to places all over the world.

Now we will create a team model showing how packages are sorted and transported to their destinations.

Share your ideas, team model, and what your team has learned with others.

